

State Machine Question (100 marks)

Given the problem description below, specify the state machine for the automatic bread maker. Show the states as well as transitions including events, guards, and actions. You do not need to specify parameters for events, guards, and actions. If you use private methods for guards or actions in your state machine, use meaningful names for those methods. You do not need to define the method bodies of those methods.

